PROFILE

Graduating from Sheffield Hallam University with a masters degree in product design alongside industry experience has allowed me to learn and grow into a confident designer. Throughout my studies I have had a primarily focus on human-centered design and researching the important relationship consumer products have within our everyday lives.

My goal is to benefit as many peoples lives as possible. Studying product design has been a perfect platform for me to do this and this is something I would like to continue throughout the future. During my time at Sheffield Hallam University I have acquired a lot of skills I need to become a designer in a professional environment but I am always looking to educate myself and improve whenever possible.

WORK AND INTERNSHIP

QUICKPLAY

Design Intern

February 2016 - May 2016

My design internship at QuickPlay has enabled me to understand what it takes to work in the design industry. During my time I learnt a lot about what it takes to turn a concept into a full manufactured product. I spent time working on projects that have won awards and that are used by some of the biggest names/teams in football.

TESCO

Customer Service Assistant

March 2012 - Current

Working for Tesco has taught me how to work in a team to hit targets. It has also enabled me to learn how to interact with the general public and has gave me an enhanced confidence when meeting new people.

EXPERIENCES

- Presenting to Pentland Brands at their London office after the professional practice module.
- Exhibited work done for the Sheffield Children's Hospital at the BCFA exhibition 2017.
- Exhibited work done for the SIA Lab4Living exhibition 2017.
- Marketing team for exhibition Life On The Hill
